

Are you in control of your content... or is it controlling you?

When content isn't properly controlled, it can drown your business. You need a platform that gives control. Choosing between one document processing solution and another can be challenging—and the wrong choice will cost you.

Ask yourself: Is your platform capable of adapting to your ever-changing business cycles? Will it cover your entire document lifecycle process? Compare the difference:

Rigid Platforms

Traps You in Fixed Contracts

Rigidity and concrete plans slow your progress and keep your business from moving forward

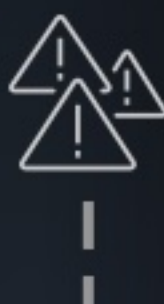

Requires Complicated Implementations

Lengthy deployments hurt productivity and ROI

Limits Your Capabilities

Volume and user barriers restrict your ability to add the usability you need

Face Unexpected Charges

Additional costs are unavoidable when you constantly need to integrate additional features and capabilities

Inflexible & Unable to Adapt

Fixed platforms can't adjust to the ever-changing seasons of the market

Outdated Security

Platforms built from old legacy systems can open up cracks in your data security

Cloud-Hosted or Cloud-Based

Created on-premise and transitioned to the cloud, leading to complicated integrations and poor scalability

Holds Your Data Hostage

Others claim to own your data, making you pay a steep fee to get it back if you leave

Flexible Platforms

Frees You to Adjust Anytime

Add functions as you need them to keep your business evolving and to master your digital transformation

No Stress Set Up

Deliver quick wins and gain stakeholder support with quick implementation

Unlimited Users, Volumes, and Bots

Unlock limitless amounts of data, bots and users to maximize your efficiency

Control Your Costs

Gain confidence knowing there are no hidden charges with a subscription-based, pay as you go plan that covers everything

Scales with Your Business

Adapts instantly and is built to accommodate to market fluctuations

Highly Secure, Modern Technology

Get continuous, automatic updates to ensure maximum data protection

Cloud-Native

Solutions born in the cloud are made to scale instantly and integrate easily

Gives You Control of Your Data

Own your data always and even store your own backups on-premise

The world of document processing is ever-changing. Power up for the unpredictable
